$2,000
SCHOLARSHIP

The Los Angeles Section of NACE International, an association of corrosion engineers and scientists, is providing a $2,000 scholarship to a student majoring in engineering or other sciences. To be considered, please respond in writing to the following question:

WHY IS CORROSION CONTROL IMPORTANT IN YOUR FIELD OF STUDY?

Your response must be at least one but no longer than two, double-spaced, 12-point typed pages. Include your name, address, phone number, major, year of study, university attending, and the name and phone number of one professor as a reference. Members of the Los Angeles Section of NACE International will select the best response.

Important tips – be scientific, personal, concise, and articulate.

Please submit your response to the above question to Peter Harkins (Chair of the Los Angeles Section) by February 15, 2009 at his address in the upper left-hand corner. The scholarship will be awarded at the LA Section of NACE International dinner meeting on May 8, 2009, where the winner will be an invited guest.
